Images so real, you'll feel like you're really there. To ensure you miss none of the stunning beauty made possible by HDTV, pictures are enhanced by the AVM-II (Advanced Video Movement II) next-generation digital video signal processor before they reach the superb high-definition 1,366 x 788 pixel XGA wide-screen flat display. With a High-Definition Multimedia Interface (HDMI) input to preserve the full signal quality of HDTV broadcasts and DVD movies, the P50XHA51AS brings all the realism and excitement of digital video into your living room.
